

Journal of EMERGENCY NURSING

Official Publication of

ENA
EMERGENCY NURSES
ASSOCIATION

JEN

Call for Papers

The Journal of Emergency Nursing® is inviting paper submissions for a variety of topics, including but not limited to:

- Use of Artificial Intelligence and Other Technologies in Emergency Care Settings
- Trauma and Massive Transfusion Protocols
- New Approaches to Addressing Emergency Department Throughput
- Case Reviews Related to Emergency Nursing Practice
- Clinical Papers Focused on Body Systems, Diagnoses, and Treatment (must be evidence-informed)
- Emergency Nursing Innovations
- Forensic Nursing
- Performance improvement projects and novel research studies
- Implementation Science in Emergency Care Settings
- Rare or Infrequently Seen Illnesses or Injuries
- Section papers (see author guidelines for the types of sections and editor contact information at jenonline.org/content/authorinfo).

The Journal welcomes new and experienced authors. Aspiring authors may find free webinars on navigating the path to publishing helpful. They are available in the Webinar tile at jenonline.org.

The Journal of Emergency Nursing® now offers CNE to readers — ask how your article could be eligible for CNE in an upcoming issue.

Are you Interested in Being a Peer Reviewer for JEN?

Now accepting new peer reviewers for the Journal of Emergency Nursing®.

Qualifications

- Experience in emergency nursing or related fields
- Willing to review at least four manuscripts per year
- Publishing or editing experience preferred but not required

Before conducting peer reviews, the team encourages all reviewers to complete the no-cost Elsevier Peer Review Certification course at <https://researcheracademy.elsevier.com/navigating-peer-review/certified-peer-reviewer-course>.

If you want to join the Journal team, please email your resume or CV to anniewkelly@gmail.com.

Follow JEN on social media:

X

LinkedIn

Read JEN online

jenonline.org